

CHINA OUTREACH CHINA

Two moms were walking the dark streets of China's red light district. There they learned that many of the women had been scammed into prostitution with the promise of stable jobs or lured in while looking for work to support their families. Soon China Outreach was born. The two moms continued to enter the red light districts, bringing a light to this dark place, reaching out to the women, and building a program for them. Now our partners provide shelters, medical checkups and treatment, crisis pregnancy counseling, vocational training, employment, and more. If a woman cannot come to them, our partners meet her where she's at—whether it be on the streets, inside a brothel, or in a prison cell. Our partners even meet with the mafia, pimps, and brothel owners, knowing that their change of heart will lead to even greater change for the women. They have seen the closing of brothels and the expansion of their outreach in new regions. In places where women are deceived into a life of darkness, our partners offer them a life in the light. Your purchase helps these women find safety, hope, and true healing.

STORIES OF RESCUE & EMPOWERMENT

COUNTRY: CHINA • PROGRAM: INTERNATIONAL SAFEHOUSE

Xiao Fang

Xiao Fang came to the city full of hope. With her new job, she could finally support her family back in the village. She stepped off the bus, eager to begin her work at a large supermarket. But her excitement soon turned to horror when, hours later, she woke from a drug induced sleep, trapped within the walls of a brothel. The job offer wasn't real; it was all a ruse to catch, drug, and bring her to the brothel to sell her virginity to the highest bidder. Finally, just when Xiao Fang had given up hope, the brothel was raided by the police. But instead of treating Xiao Fang like the victim she was, the police treated her as a criminal and threw her in prison. Xiao Fang's true rescue came in the form of our partners who visited her in her prison cell. They brought her to live at their shelter, finally giving her safety and a family she could trust. Now Xiao Fang is slowly finding healing, working with dignity, and supporting her family back home.
